The General Services Administration (GSA) together with our partner agency, Veterans Administration (VA), provides a full line of products and services for Health, Safety and Security Professionals. Professionals in these areas can depend on GSA & VA to provide contractual solutions to most of today's technical, laboratory and medical challenges. Using GSA Advantage! (www.gsaAdvantage.GOV) and E-Library (www.fss.gsa.gov/schedules) you will find the latest in high-tech solutions.

Researchers will find the laboratory and scientific equipment, services, furniture, computers and software necessary to meet the demanding needs of their projects, many leading to life and world-changing solutions.

Security, Law Enforcement and Facility Management professionals in both the Federal and Military Community will find a wide range of products and services to meet the new challenges they are faced with everyday. GSA recognizes that this community of professionals is faced with increasingly serious issues including domestic and international terrorism and work place violence. Security solutions provided by GSA include perimeter security, interior security, services and training aids and devices. Law enforcement equipment includes personal protection and supplies, vehicle equipment, detection equipment, investigative equipment, surveillance equipment, safety equipment and more. We even provide the vehicles used by most major law enforcement agencies.

Health professionals can count on GSA to provide office and scientific equipment and healthcare furniture necessary to provide the finest in medical care to their patients. GSA's commitment to health care professionals resulted in the development of our turnkey furniture solution "Healthcare Packaged Rooms" available from GSA's multiple award schedule 71 II H discussed in more detail in this edition of MarkeTips. Medical equipment and supplies procured by the Veterans Administration (VA) are being added to GSA Advantage! If you're looking for this type of equipment, please be patient and keep checking our web site, we are expanding for you!

We have something for everyone. Here's a preview of what's inside this edition of MarkeTips:
